AMTECH STREAMER AMBIENT TOWER

The Amtech Streamer Ambient Tower by Clean Air Industries provides an efficient solution for welding shops, ensuring continuous air changes to maintain a clean working environment.

Its compact design optimizes shop floor space by being placed in a staggered formation against walls, reducing obstruction. Unlike traditional hanging units requiring frequent maintenance, the Amtech Streamer integrates a cleaning system similar to a dust collector, decreasing the need for filter changes. Moreover, it operates hands-free, eliminating the need for operator intervention, unlike portable weld fume extractors.

With a reputation for reliability backed by 30 years of manufacturing experience, these units are built to last. Plus, they are proudly made in the USA, ensuring quality control from steel cutting to powder coating in Russellville, Kentucky.
